A Memorial

Mothers never really die -- they just keep house in the sky.

*Death beckoned her with outstretched hand
And whispered softly of "An Unknown Land" --
But she was not afraid to go
For though the path she did not know,
She took death's hand without a fear,
For He who safely brought her here
Had told her He would lead the way
Into eternity's bright day . . .
And so she did not go alone
Into the "Valley that's Unknown"
She gently took death by the hand
And journeyed to "the promised land" . . .
And there, with step so light and gay,
She polishes the sun by day
And lights the stars that shine at night
And keeps the moonbeams silvery bright . . .
For Mothers really never die,
They just "Keep House up in the Sky" . . .
And in the Heavenly home above
They wait to "Welcome" those they love.*
